SAMPLE MULTI-CHOICE QUESTIONS WITH ANSWERS

Every care has been taken to try to ensure that the answers given are correct. However, if any user considers that the answers may be wrong, please get in touch with us and we will review the situation.

While we have tried to cover the areas upon which questions may be based, this Questionnaire does not pretend to be absolutely comprehensive. It should be used as a check of the revision procedure. The intention was to provide example questions that explore the range of options open to the examiner. These questions are not intended to replicate the questions that might be asked in the examination. They are intended to help the user to be sure they have covered the areas from which questions might be drawn. If the user can answer these questions correctly, they have an excellent chance of having covered all the areas that are subject to examination. Please let us know if you think there are areas that can be improved.
